

Thomas Cooperrider is a Vice President at Dubin Clark & Company, Inc., a private equity investment firm in Boston, MA. In his role at Dubin Clark, Tom focuses on business development, M&A transaction execution, and portfolio management, where he serves in a variety of board-level roles. Tom has been active with education-focused non-profit organizations since 2014 as both a volunteer and board member. He earned his B.S. in Industrial Engineering and Economics from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and his M.S. from Boston College. Tom's favorite books from his childhood include Redwall by Brian Jacques and Strega Nona by Tomie dePaola.